

Scholarships in Civic Engagement cohort: Students selected for these scholarships will be pursuing careers in related civic, political science, sociology, or criminal justice fields of study. This cohort will work with faculty, to develop curriculum designed to help college students understand their relationship to all levels of government so as to develop a civic identity. The cohort will also engage with regional leaders to discuss a wide range of policy initiatives, both at the municipal and state level. For more information contact Kenja McCray, Kenjamccray@clayton.edu
