

Master Planning Process

The Master Planning process requires coordination and integration of program, financial, and physical planning.

The process operates on the premise that the development of facilities and their ongoing management can best serve specific program needs if the organization's standards of space planning, facilities programming, design, and construction management are closely linked.

We welcome your input at FacilitiesMasterPlanning@clayton.edu.

