

Library COVID-19 Mask Wearing and Social Distancing Policy

Clayton State University Library upholds the right of our patrons to study and do research in a safe environment in accordance with our Library Code of Conduct, rules established by the University and University System of Georgia, and Undergraduate and Graduate Code of Conduct.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the University System of Georgia issued new guidance concerning face coverings and social distancing for vaccinated and unvaccinated individuals. Based on this guidance, the following updates have been made to COVID-19 related protocols on campus. Please take a moment to review the following information before visiting the library.

Face Coverings

Effective Thursday, May 13, 2021, fully vaccinated members of the Clayton State community are welcome to resume campus classes and other activities (including library visits) without wearing a mask. Unvaccinated individuals are strongly encouraged to continue wearing a face covering while inside campus facilities.

Physical Distancing

Individuals on campus are strongly encouraged to continue to practice social distancing. The library and all classrooms on campus during summer session will continue to have assigned seats posted using six (6) feet physical distancing guidance.

Additional information about campus COVID-19 policies are on the CSU website.

Note: The COVID-19 pandemic is still active. This guidance is subject to change based on recommendations from the Department of Public Health or Executive Orders from the Governor's office.
