

CLAYTON STATE UNIVERSITY
Professional Qualification Statement for Degree/Concentration/Certificate

Date:	11/4/09
College/School/Department:	School of Business
Degree/Concentration/Certificate:	BBA in Accounting
Coordinator:	Greg Kordecki
Coordinator Responsibilities:	Teach in the program, advise accounting students, and serve as Coordinator of the Accounting and Business Law disciplines. Administer the academic operations of the accounting program including scheduling and academic policies. Recruit students into the accounting program. Coordinate development of curriculum for the accounting major.
Degrees:	Masters of Decision Sciences, Georgia State University, MPA in Accounting at Georgia State University
Experience:	Currently Professor Kordecki is Coordinator of the Accounting and Business Law disciplines at Clayton State University. He has 33 years of university teaching experience at Clayton State University; service on curriculum committees; writing proposals for new courses; design and implementation of the accounting major at Clayton State University as well as coordination of courses in negotiations, ethics and business law, responsible for coordinating curriculum change proposals and program proposals such as the proposal for a concentration in Accounting for the MBA Program.
Certifications:	CPA
Courses taught at CSU:	Accounting Internship, Auditing & Assurance Services, Government & Not-For-Profit Accounting, Intermediate Financial Accounting I & II, Management Principles & Organizational Behavior, Principles of Financial Accounting, Principles of Managerial Accounting

Narrative Statement of Qualifications (to be completed by chair or dean):

1. What evidence exists that the coordinator has the qualifications and credentials for leadership in the development and review of the curriculum?

His academic qualifications as well as his many years of administration and academic work experiences qualify him for leadership and curriculum review. He has served as a member of the School's CAPC and Assessment Committee. He has also worked on developing new programs such as the MBA in Accounting and developing new accounting courses. In addition, he has worked to review extensive requirement changes in the accounting major over the past several years. In the law discipline, he has coordinated development of new courses in negotiations and labor law as well. He is an excellent mentor for faculty and students in the discipline.

2. What evidence exists that the coordinator provides oversight for assessing the quality of the curriculum for the program and for ensuring that the curriculum and its delivery are educationally sound?

Professor Kordecki is working as a member of the Assessment Committee of the School to ensure high quality programs both at the undergraduate and graduate level. He is responsible for developing the Assurance of Learning outcomes for the Accounting Program and tying these into the curriculum of the accounting program in a comprehensive way as well as coordinating the assessment plans of all the faculty in his disciplines. In addition, Professor Kordecki is active as a professional in the field and brings these contacts and knowledge to the accounting students through guest lecturers, speaker and events in the Accounting Club (which he has chaired or co-chaired in the past several years). He has been awarded major practitioner roles on the Executive Task Force of the Georgia Society of CPAs, the Accounting Institute, and the Assurance Services Section of the Georgia Society of CPAs. He has also served as a Program Designer for the annual CPE requirements in the Technical Services Division of the Georgia Association of Public Accountants and as the Professional Services Coordinator for Chapter and State-wide Services of the Georgia Society of CPAs.