

Middle Level Upper Division Program of Study

After completing the general core curriculum for the freshman and sophomore years (60 semester hours in areas A-F), students may apply for admission to the middle level education program. Each student in the baccalaureate program in middle level education chooses two teaching fields.

The table below gives the required curriculum for education courses and each of the areas of concentration. In some cases, the required curriculum allows choices, but a choice is not shown in the table because only one of the allowed courses will be offered in the appropriate semester. Some courses (listed with an asterisk) may be offered in other semesters but should be taken in the semester listed in order to complete all required courses prior to the internship in the Spring Semester of the senior year. Some students may be able to take alternates and lighten their loads in Spring or Fall Semesters by taking one or more courses in the preceding Summer Semester. The possibility of such options needs to be discussed with the student's teacher education advisor. CSU is committed to offering the courses listed in the semesters shown in the table. Summer course offerings cannot be guaranteed.

The following courses are required for graduation. Students may take the courses during the summer or add them to any spring or fall semester during the junior and senior year where hours allow. It is suggested that the courses are taken before the spring of the senior year.

- EDUC 3030 (3) – Non math concentrations have room in the schedule to take fall semester of junior year. Math concentration students have room to take in the spring semester of junior year.
- EDUC 3040 or EDUC 4050 or EDUC 4060 (3) – Hours allow to take in the fall of the senior year
